The "non-retirement" announcement

Dear friends and clients,

As many of you are aware Jean Pierre had some serious health issues last year that we had to deal with. We were not sure if he would be able to continue working and handle the pressure of operating a business while under treatment. We thought the best thing to do would be to put the business up for sale and hope for the best. Over the course of the past year we had many prospects but no takers with a serious offer. So here we are...

As the new year begins Jean Pierre's health is much improved with a positive prognosis for the future. We are here for the foreseeable first six months of the new year.

The business is still for sale but we are working in the meantime.

We will be on our annual vacation in Latin America for February and March of 2017. Returning to the United States mid April and back to classes and parties thereafter. Please check the schedule of classes upcoming in April and beyond. Be sure to book early as the classes fill very rapidly.

A few new things;

1. Price increase for classes;

$65.00 per person for regular classes (4 course demonstration)

$75.00 per person for "cooking with the chef" (3 course, hands-on)

2. 5 day work week. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday-open to the public classes.

Friday, Saturday- private parties of 10 to 26 people. Choose your own menu.

Closed Sunday, Monday.
